Description

Betannia, resort for both the soul and body health. Betania is a oasis of peace, situated on the slopes of Cortona, an ancient Etruscan town rich in history and arts with a splendid view over the Val di Chiana and lake rasimeno. The convent, still run by Franciscan nuns, features comfortable accommodation at a reasonable price. Groups, families and individuals can be lodged in a friendly, cosy atmosphere, where everybody, regardless their religious beliefs, can feel at ease and rediscover both religious and human values. Thanks to the strategic position of Cortona one can reach beautiful towns such as Firenze, Perugia, Siena, Assisi and Rome in a very short time. The convent was named after Betania to stress the values of hospitality and friendship. For those who would like to get closer to the Word of the Lord the nuns arrange a series of lectures held by prominent Bible scholars throughout the year.
